Products and/or Components Updated with this Patch

Fortify Static Code Analyzer and Tools

New Features

This patch adds support for the following technologies:

- Xcode 13.4 and 13.4.1
- swiftc 5.6.1

This patch includes the release of the following tools:

- Fortify Remediation Plugin for Eclipse
- Fortify Remediation Plugin IntelliJ IDEA, Android Studio, PyCharm, and WebStorm

Updates / Fixes

The following issues have been fixed in this patch:

- Java translation error: resolved issue where an error occurred when running a Java translation if a Java 17 class was on the classpath.
- Incomplete support for express.js: resolved issue with missing type definitions for express.js. This resulted in incomplete scan results.
- Loss of vulnerabilities after migrating to 22.1.0: Resolves an issue where a small number of vulnerabilities found in 21.2.x were lost after migrating to version 22.1.0.
- Resolved an issue where customizations made to your configuration and properties files (fortify.sca.properties) didn't always migrate to the new installation.

- Resolved issue where a new UnifiedLoginToken was created every time the same user connected to Fortify Software Security Center (Connect to SSC) from the Fortify Visual Studio Extension.
- Resolved issue in Fortify Audit Workbench where the audited issue count in the Issues view was incorrect. Previously, if there were 10 issues and 3 were audited, the count displayed [10 / 10] instead of [3 / 10].
- Resolved issue where you could not save audit information on Fortify Software Security center after connecting to the service through Visual Studio using a ToolsConnectToken generated on Fortify Software Security Center.
