What's New

Support of the most common Micro Focus Reflection APIs to provide a seamless coding experience between the two products.

- Ability to get live session objects using a name
- Ability to use any function as macro entry point
- Open and close sessions using VBA
- New events:

  - Connection state change
  - Host and local screen change
  - Cursor position change
  - Keyboard status change

Known Issues

This release of the Rumba VBA Add-On supports the Reflection for IBM 14.x methods and properties with the following limitations:

Exit	`Exit` is a reserved word in Visual Basic. Use the `Quit` method.
ExtendSelection	Rumba supports only rectangular selection. This method therefore works in the same way as `ExtendSelectionRect`.
PrintScreen	Currently prints the entire screen once according to the last selected print configuration. Same as pressing CTRL+P then Enter.
TransmitTerminalKey	Some terminal keys are unavailable. See the online Help.
Empty implementations	Some methods and properties have empty implementations. See the online Help.
